

Earth Day Celebrations at the Spa at Mandarin Oriental, Prague 22 to 29 April 2010

Celebrate with us Earth Day, which reminds us all of the ever-broadening and diversifying environmental movement worldwide. The Spa at Mandarin Oriental, Prague is committed to helping promote a healthy and sustainable environment, and so we are delighted to introduce special activities and offers starting 22 April.

EARTH (MINERALS) Thursday 22 April 2010

Did you know?

Our spa offers Jane Iredale mineral make-up, which we choose not only for the brand's healthy and natural approach but also for its dedication to environmental issues and animal rights. Their Green Team works to lessen its employees' environmental impact at the workplace while also developing sustainable product packaging. Jane Iredale are proud supporter of Global Green, the American Arm of Green Cross International (GCI).

Day Special:

Enjoy your make-up application with an exceptional half-price offer applicable for both 30-minute and 60-minute beauty treatments on this day only. In addition, we offer a 20% discount on all Jane Iredale products.

WATER Friday 23 April 2010

Did you know?

Water is necessary to all living things and is a strategic resource in the globe. Only 1.6 billion people have access to a safe water source. Our spa has installed low-flow faucet aerators to minimise both cold and hot water use.

Day Special:

With any treatment booked, you will receive a complimentary heat or water spa experience (subject to availability).

WOOD Saturday

24 April 2010

Did you know?

The underground passage to the spa was built in a U shape to protect roots of the chestnut tree that's stood for many years in front of the spa. Trees play an important role in producing oxygen and reducing carbon dioxide in the atmosphere, prevent erosion and provide a weather-sheltered ecosystem in and under their foliage.

Day Special:

When booked for this date our local Linden Blossom treatment, a traditional spa journey, is only half price.

AIR Sunday

25 April 2010

Did you know?

Candles used for lighting the spa areas are battery operated, thus a burning flame doesn't deplete oxygen. The oxygen in the atmosphere is entirely the product of green plants.

Day Special:

A Breath Package (90 min) booked today is half price and includes one of our soothing heat and water procedures. Plus you can enjoy 20% discount on all our "breath" products.

ENERGY Monday

26 April 2010

Did you know?

With oil prices rising and energy demand from emerging economies ballooning, no single energy source will emerge to replace fossil fuels. Our spa uses energy-saving lighting devices including LED lights and rechargeable batteries.

Day Special:

Experience renewal with our Revive Body Treatment (90 min) and get ready for a busy week. The treatment is available at half price this day only and all Revive products for 20 % off.

HUMAN BODY Tuesday

27 April 2010

Did you know?

Balanced people enjoy life to the fullest. The general idea of balanced living is that you divide your life into six areas (family, finances, career, friends and social life, health, spirituality) and you try to give equal amounts of attention to each of these areas.

Day Special:

Mandarin Oriental Signature Therapies booked for this date are at half price. Each therapy allows you to get body, mind and spirit in sacred harmony. And, enjoy our signature products with 20 % discount.

ORGANIC AND NATURAL PRODUCTS Wednesday

28 April 2010

Did you know?

Our spa offers a selection of organic, natural face and body care products that contain no harmful ingredients or parabens. Paraben are chemicals widely used as preservatives in the cosmetic which cause skin irritation and contact dermatitis.

Day Special:

For the entire day all our organic and natural products and bespoke Mandarin Oriental line products are at a 30% discount.

FOOD Thursday

29 April 2010

Did you know?

Our executive chef, Jiří Štíft, supports local suppliers of organic food by using their produce in his menu creations. Organic farming is less damaging to the environment and more energy efficient.

Day Special:

Book a Mandarin Oriental Signature Therapy for this day and receive a complimentary three-course lunch designed to your Chinese element.
