ACCA

ACCA is pleased to be hosting the fifth annual global series of Managing Human Capital events for senior finance and human resources professionals. Bringing together employers from a range of sectors, our 2009 programme aims to explore the global challenges and opportunities organisations face in recruiting, developing and retaining high performance finance professionals.

Each event is design to tackle the specific challenges being faced by business leaders in the region and is tailor-made for CEOs, CFOs, HR directors and other senior staff interested in developing their human capital and furthering their understanding of how to derive maximum value from their finance functions.

The 2009 events will consider the impact of the global economic downturn, and strategies to help redress these challenges, maintain high performance and keep talent engaged.

The events are an excellent opportunity to network with other senior professionals who share a common in development of finance professionals, and provide a platform for ACCA to share delegates its global research on these issues.
