

RODINA V PRÁVU

THE NEW PROJECT FROM BPV BRAUN
PARTNERS

WHAT ARE WE ABOUT?

The new project from bpv Braun Partners – keep ahead of the game with us!

The Rodina v právu / Law & Family project confronts negative social stereotypes and promotes the idea that divorce, property settlements and custody agreements are common life situations that any one of us can find ourselves in (sometimes through no fault of our own). Not everyone takes the same approach, however. Family law doesn't always have to be a battlefield for working out problems in our personal lives or – even worse – destroying relationships within the family and negatively impacting the children.

Rodina v právu / Law & Family aims to improve the family law environment and help clients find acceptable solutions and peace of mind. “Our goal is to give clients a rational explanation of their situation and support them in their decisions,” says attorney and founder Gabriela Jiráková.

Lawyers on the Rodina v právu / Law & Family team act as a steady anchor supporting the client.

Rodina v právu / Law & Family is all about taking a personal approach, focusing on practical solutions and protecting clients' interests. The website www.rodinavpravu.cz offers more information on this type of legal assistance plus a blog with news about current issues.

WHAT DO THE NUMBERS SAY?

47.2%

total divorce rate
(data of CZSO from 2017)

58.4%

of divorces involve underage children
(data of CZSO from 2018)

“Of course we cannot promise our clients that everything will be over within the year. However, we believe that the overall approach to family law issues can have a major impact on how long the process lasts – and this benefits not only our clients, but ultimately everyone involved,” explains Pavel Vitr, an attorney with years of experience in family law.

“We understand that today’s busy world calls for highly efficient services that do not always require meeting in person, so we have designed our legal services to be available online as well. This model is quite common elsewhere in the world both in family law and in other areas of law. It presents the ideal solution for busy women and men, saving them valuable time and not sacrificing in quality of services,” concludes partner and attorney Jiří Bárta.
